

Konfliktrådet

The National Mediation Service could be a great option for you!

The National Mediation Service can facilitate meetings between people who need to speak because of crime or conflict. The service is free and voluntary and you can request an interpreter.

Who can you contact?

You can contact your local mediation service via our website or ask an employee for further information. The victim or their next of kin can also contact the National Mediation Service at their own initiative.

Sincerely, the National Mediation Service
